

Richard Wright Architects

www.rwrightarchitects.com

Residential Addition (Unbuilt) Dallas, Texas

The existing home was designed by a well-known Dallas architect, and the addition was to be as rich and diverse. It was on a tight in-town residential lot with a swimming pool in an older neighborhood. The Owner wanted natural light and intriguing spatial play – nooks and crannies, ups and downs. Alas, even the best projects don't get built for one reason or another.